

Literature, Chips and Format Update

By Jay S.
LCF Chair

Hello, fellow members of Cocaine Anonymous. My name is Jay S. and I am the newly elected Chairperson of the CAWS Literature, Chips and Format Committee. I am writing this to update you about new literature you may be seeing on the tables at your meetings in the coming years.

I was elected by the committee to serve a two-year term as chairperson, beginning at the end of the 1998 conference and ending after the 2000 conference. This committee is responsible for writing the pamphlets you see on your tables. We also develop suggested formats for use at meetings, and we design chips.

Some of you out there may be wondering, "why does it take so long to get a piece of literature on the tables at meetings?"

The answer is that a 12-point literature approval process has been instituted. This process was developed several years ago, to ensure that the best possible C.A. recovery literature would be available to members of the fellowship. It is also designed to ensure there are no Tradition violations or any undesirable effects on C.A. as a whole.

The first draft of any proposed piece of literature is prepared by a subcommittee. One such piece, currently being drafted for our young members, is tentatively titled "Youth in Recovery." This pamphlet is in subcommittee. Two other pieces have had drafts reviewed by the entire LCF committee, and were returned with suggestions to their respective subcommittees. The first of these is a piece on helplines and information phone lines. This will offer suggested guidelines for areas or districts to use in setting up and maintaining a helpline. The second pamphlet returned to the subcommittee is a piece on Unity and is titled "Unity: Our most Precious Quality." The LCF subcommittee is working with the Unity Committee to refine this piece.

At the 1998 Conference, our committee sent two pieces of literature to the CAWS Board of Trustees, which is another step of our 12-point approval process. The Trustees review the proposed literature to ensure there are neither Traditions violations nor concerns that might negatively affect C.A. as a whole. One of those pieces sent to the Trustees was a pamphlet entitled "The Traditions Group Inventory." The other is a piece entitled "Anonymity." If these are found by the Trustees not to violate Traditions they will be sent to the WSO where the piece will be sent out for professional editing. One piece of literature sent to the Trustees prior to this year's conference was "A Guide to the Twelve Traditions."

This piece has been returned to the subcommittee for revision, with suggestions from the Trustees and from members of the LCF committee. We hope that this piece will be ready to give to the Trustees at the 1999 WSC.

After professional editing the pieces would go back to the LCF committee for approval. If approved, a "DRAFT" is printed and distributed to delegates to take back to their Areas for feedback. If there is no constructive feedback it is published by WSO as a "DRAFT" pending Conference approval. If approved by the conference the word "DRAFT" is removed and the C.A. logo is put on and is ready for your tables.

Cocaine Anonymous Concept Two

By Walter J.
Atlantic South Regional Trustee

"The C.A. Groups delegate to the World Service Conference the complete authority for the active maintenance of our world services and thereby make the Conference — except for any changes in the Twelve Traditions — the actual voice and the effective conscience for our whole Fellowship."

No matter how many hundreds of Cocaine Anonymous meetings and thousands of C.A. members around the world, none of them is individually able to arrange and guide our multifaceted World Service operations. Nevertheless, C.A.'s group conscience as well as the funds needed to run the world services still rest with the members as they collectively make up our groups. The power of C.A.'s members to alter the world service structure and to criticize its operations is of utmost importance. Yet the members of C.A. through our group conscience maintain the ability to alter our world service structure as well as to criticize its operation when and if that need arises.

In order for C.A.'s members to experience the full effects of these actions, the groups must delegate the actual operational authority to chosen representatives. These chosen representatives would be fully empowered to speak and act on behalf of the groups.

A Note from the WSO

Well, we are still talking about the 1998 World Service Conference which was held at the Radisson Hotel in Culver City over the Labor Day weekend. It just seems like yesterday. A fair amount was accomplished at the WSC yet more remains to be completed. The goal of the WSO is to respond timely to the concerns and requests of the Conference as soon as possible. The WSO Board of Directors has been reviewing projects and setting priorities at the meetings of the Board since the Conference ended. The next mailing to the WSC attendees will take place on December 1, 1998. If you have any questions regarding the Conference please ask your Delegate or address your questions to the WSO (via Email) at CAWSO@CA.ORG, or the U.S. mail or you can call us.

One of the problems addressed was the Seventh Tradition Donations schedule contained on the last page of the NewsGram. We have instituted procedures to catch any errors but would like your feedback as soon as possible if a mistake escapes our attention. If your donation is missing or the group/district/area/region is misnamed please contact the office immediately.

This NewsGram tackles some of the underlying support of our Fellowship's structure known as the Concepts; not all of them at once, just the Second Concept and its relation to the Second Tradition. If you don't know what the Concepts are be sure to get a copy of the C.A. Service Manual which lists all of them on page Seven. You may order the Service Manual from the office at a cost of $1.10, which includes shipping and handling. The Manual will also be available on the C.A. Web site in the near future in a downloadable format. These Concepts are important to us, especially to those who are of service to the Fellowship at the District/Area/Region/World levels. They provide an additional framework within which we operate. Many of the Rights that you may have heard about at a service meeting, like the Right of Participation and the Right of Decision, are discussed in the Concepts. Together with the Traditions and Principles of Cocaine Anonymous, the Concepts allow the service structure to successfully operate even when populated by a bunch of self-centered addicts.

Finally, if you have any questions or comments on the NewsGram please send them to Steve E. at CAWSO@CA.ORG or our mailing address. In addition to being a director on the WSO Board Steve is the new Editor of the NewsGram. We on the Board welcome his heartfelt efforts and enthusiasm in making the NewsGram even better.

Please Complete the Recovery Text Survey

By Steve E.
WSOB Director at Large

One of the issues repeatedly referred to committee from the Conference floor for the past several years is the suggestion that Cocaine Anonymous write its own recovery material. Such a suggestion is, by its very nature, controversial. Some of our members seem to feel that our fellowship is too dependent on materials published by Alcoholics Anonymous, and that this may lead to C.A. members abandoning Cocaine Anonymous in favor of attending A.A. meetings. Other C.A. members are convinced that the Big Book of Alcoholics Anonymous and the Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions are divinely inspired texts which have proven effective, and that any attempt to rewrite the information found in those books would be foolhardy. Many other reasons and opinions have been voiced at every World Service Conference on both sides of this issue.

The Hope, Faith and Courage book published in 1993 was one response to requests for literature specific to C.A. Some of you may remember the controversies generated by the approval of that book. The group conscience of the WSC was to clearly limit the content of the book to personal stories of recovery, designed to supplement the Big Book and not in any way replace the program of recovery found in the A.A. books. Since then, the Literature Chips and Format Committee of the WSC has ventured a bit further into writing recovery program literature in the form of the "Guide to the 12 Steps" pamphlet which has been approved by the Conference, and a similar "Guide to the 12 Traditions" pamphlet which is currently being written.

At this year's Conference there was again a referral to the LCF Committee suggesting that C.A. write its own recovery text. After much consideration, the committee decided that such an important issue deserved a sampling of opinions of our entire fellowship. To that end, the committee drafted a "Cocaine Anonymous Recovery Text Survey." You will find a copy of that survey in this issue of the NewsGram. The same survey was distributed at the Conference, and may already have found its way to your group via your World Service delegate. The LCF committee hopes that every member of the fellowship will complete this survey, provide their comments on this issue, and return it to the WSO by January 15, 1998.

One final note on this subject: this issue is controversial enough that even the wording of the survey gave rise to debate, both at the committee level and on the floor of the Conference. Some members of the fellowship have even attempted to distribute revised versions of the survey, which they felt better addressed the questions involved. You should be aware, however, that the survey contained in this NewsGram (which was also distributed at the Conference) is the only version approved by a group conscience of the LCF Committee, and is the only such survey form that should be distributed at C.A. meetings. The committee looks forward to reviewing the survey results, and will report the results in a future issue of the NewsGram.

Update...

One other item I'd like to bring to your attention regards some referrals from this year's Conference requesting new, special types of commemorative chips. Delegates from different areas requested that the committee consider producing some sort of memorial chips to designate that a member had died clean and sober, or that chips be designed to specifically mark the completion of any or all of the Twelve Steps. After giving these requests serious consideration the committee suggested that, rather than incur substantial costs to produce new types of commemorative chips or medallions, that members of the fellowship consider using the existing Principles Medallion for such purposes. If you've never seen a Principles Medallion, it is available from the WSO at the same price as other medallions. But rather than specifically noting a length of sobriety, this medallion is inscribed on the reverse side of the C.A. logo with the principles of the program. These are, in the order printed on the medallion,

HONESTY, HOPE, FAITH,
COURAGE, INTEGRITY, WILLING-NESS, HUMILITY, LOVE, FORGIVE-
NESS, DISCIPLINE, AWARENESS AND SERVICE

We hope the fellowship will consider ordering these medallions for use to mark a variety of achievements or landmark events for our members.

Finally, I would like to invite any and all members of the fellowship to write me, your delegate or Trustee with new ideas for literature, chips or formats, or if you have any questions about existing literature, chips and formats. You can reach me through the WSO.

Knowing My Role

By Guthrie R., Brooklyn, NY

If life were a picnic, what dish would I bring to the table? Often the food of my choice remains a mystery. Time after time I have to decide what is best for me and others to feast on, hoping and praying that the decision I made was appropriate and tasteful enough to all who wish to be served.

Knowing the role that my Higher Power has in store for me is at times baffling and confusing. Most times I am left wondering what His will is for me and how best I can fulfill His purpose. I now understand that my role becomes clearer as I begin to separate myself from my personal feelings and focus on God's will. It's only by Grace and Mercy that my life has renewed by the hope, faith and courage I've found in the rooms of Cocaine Anonymous. It would be a shame to allow my own selfish motivations to block my spiritual growth and the growth of people I love.

It has always been my desire that I set my personal feelings aside when the good of the whole is of concern. My only role is to serve as a spiritual body to unify the whole, as if we were all branches of one tree. When the root is left unprotected the tree will wither and die. The question I have to constantly ask myself is: "Am I the part of the tree that's growing, or dying?"

Long-Term Planning

By Andy W.

Pacific Northwest Regional Trustee

I believe that the fellowship of Cocaine Anonymous is right on schedule in its growth. Much of the time spent by the World Service Board of Trustees has been "putting out fires." Many of these "fires" are now either out or delegated to the appropriate committee. We (WSBT) have had some time to look at the direction of our fellowship and use our skills to do some Long-Term Planning (LTP). Two Trustee meetings ago, we set aside four hours to work on LTP. Without any expectations, the results were interesting enough and stimulating enough that we decided to allow some time at each meeting for LTP. We decided to hold an open forum for LTP at the 1998 CAWS in Irvine. Unfortunately, the schedule led many to think this was a "Trustee meeting" and not an open forum, so we got less participation than we had hoped for. At the LTP forum at the CAWS Convention and at the Trustee meeting we recorded our comments on note pads and I have summarized this information below.

I would like to give you a brief overview of the discussions that took place. There was a good deal of discussion about the NewsGram and how we can make our newsletter more robust. Please see the article in this issue regarding NewsGram articles. Finance was a hot topic and the discussions were about increasing sales of chips and literature (especially books), cutting costs, financial accountability, utilization of funds, Seventh Tradition, sales of literature and books outside our fellowship, and events. International growth brought on spirited debate concerning the possibility of a Canadian Trustee, more comprehensive "how to" starter kits, the Internet, and the process for inquiry and correspondence with foreign countries.

We discussed membership and specifically considered issues such as keeping oldtimers and keeping newcomers, as well as external social, economical and technical trends. The membership issues spilled over into Public Information and Hospitals and Institutions as potential avenues for increasing membership. The conversation surrounding PI and H&I included considering how to better address community awareness, PSA's, phone lines, bus signs and press publications. We also talked of the Trustees' roles and individual responsibilities to the fellowship. Unity was a subject that threaded its way through all of our discussions. There was some dialogue about structure and how the WSO Board of Directors and the WSBT relate. The C.A. World Service Convention was discussed as part of finance as well as planning.

This is just an overview of topics covered, and we were quite pleased to get input from the fellowship. We do not, however, want to exclude those who were unable to attend the Convention. Your input and comments will be greatly appreciated.

Please direct those to the CAWS, Inc. Board of Trustees, P.O. Box 492013, Los Angeles, CA 90049-8013.

H&I Corner

Judging A Book By Its Cover

By Damon Z., Santa Fe, N.M.

My first experience of an H&I meeting was about 2 years ago. I was asked to share my experience, strength and hope on a panel at the state penitentiary. The man who asked me was the same guy that walked me into my first C.A. meeting.

All the thoughts that ran through my head told me that I didn't have enough experience, strength or hope to share, since I was fortunate enough to never have had to set foot in a place like that. But my sponsor had always told me, speak when you are asked to, because you will never know when you will say something that somebody needs to hear.

When I arrived that night, outside the fence, I could hear all the noise from inside. When the secretary showed up and we began the process of having everything searched by the guards is when I really started to get nervous. Then we started in. Being escorted down long hallways I could hear the noise getting louder as more doors were being shut behind us. The last door that was shut behind us put us in the main population.

Walking down to where we were supposed to be I could feel someone staring at me from down the hall. When I saw who it was, just looking at him gave me the creeps. We lined up at yet another door with all the inmates that were going to attend that meeting, including this one person who was making me nervous.

Getting into the room and getting started gave me the opportunity to pray for the knowledge of God's will for me and the power to carry that out. When I opened my mouth the fear was lifted from me, allowing me to look people in the eye. After it was all over, my "friend" who I had judged by his looks, came up to me. He shook my hand and told me that he may be locked up on the inside and I may be free on the outside but our stories were alike, and for that there is hope for both of us to stay sober for one more day.

With that experience came growth in my sobriety and for that I have gratitude. Thank you C.A. for letting me be of service in H&I.

WANTED

NEWSGRAM ARTICLES (AND IDEAS)

If you've read the Long-Term Planning article elsewhere in this issue, you know that one of the subjects that came up at the Trustees' LTP discussion and at the forum in Irvine was the NewsGram. The people who put the NewsGram together cannot do this by themselves. We need your help. If you examine the reports from other fellowships like ours, you will see that subscriptions to monthly or quarterly publications play a large part in their financial structure. Should we try to turn the NewsGram into a "Grapevine" or "Forum"? What other thoughts do you have that might help the NewsGram become more of the vital channel of communication and unity that such a publication should be?

All of you have experiences worth sharing. Those of us on the NewsGram editorial committee have never noticed any shortage of opinions at the meetings we attend. Please let us know what is happening in your life, meeting, Area, District, or Region. Consider sharing your personal experience working one of the Steps, Traditions, Concepts or Principles of Cocaine Anonymous. When we share our Hope, Faith and Courage, we benefit ourselves and others. Please feel free to make suggestions, send comments, praise or touching experiences. By all means, please participate. This publication belongs to the entire fellowship of C.A., and that means you. With your help, we are confident that there will be exciting changes to come in future issues of the NewsGram.

Concept Two...

Let's examine the structure in place to accommodate such delegation. We start with members forming groups. Each Group by its conscience chooses representatives (GSRs) to carry their conscience to the District. These Districts, consisting of multiple groups, choose a representative (DSR) to carry their conscience to the Area. Those Areas then select representatives (Delegates) to carry their conscience to the Regional and World levels, hence the Conference. Herein lies the ultimate authority of our collective group conscience.

This collective conscience is spoken through a properly chosen Conference whose members are fully entrusted with matters of World Services. The principle of amply delegated authority and responsibility to trusted servants must be clear from the top to the bottom of our active service structure. This is the clear implication of C.A.'s Second Tradition:

"For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority—a loving God as he may express himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants, they do not govern."

The distinct difference between ultimate and immediate service authority becomes apparent throughout the Concepts. Several areas may be under the immediate authority of the Trustees and/or the WSO Board of Directors. These include matters of moneys, creation and maintenance of the WSO, public relations, NewsGram publication, and guarding the integrity of our Traditions. Despite these facts, the ultimate authority still falls to the collective conscience of the fellowship as a whole. The final say or ultimate sanction in matters of large importance has not been given to the Trustees alone. By Conference Charter, this authority is delegated to the C.A. Groups and hence the Conference, the body which is a representative cross-section of our entire fellowship.
